K.A.A.N.M.S Arts, Commerce and Science, Satana is providing education to one and all belonging to this area in the form of various graduate, postgraduate and other programs to fulfill the needs of rural youths who are diversified in their previous knowledge and learning abilities. The main motto of the collaboration and linkages is to provide the suitable platform to the students, teachers and researchers to collaborate with specific activities. The collaboration are sign in view to provide the necessary facilities in development of the institution and personal development of the teachers and stakeholders. College has identified the areas of development of students and taken initiatives to prepare them to accept the challenges of 21st century as well as to achieve the goals of higher education. In context of this, IQAC along with all academic departments proactively involved in establishing linkages, collaborations and MoU's. The efforts made by the institute in tune with the perspective plan are noteworthy and established 36 collaborations and signed 36 MoU's for developing the various skills among students such as life, communication, research, employability as well as to provide the employment and learning opportunities. The activities are conducted to achieve the learning experiences in various areas along with teaching-learning process. These activities largely supported to maintain the learning ambience at institute. As an outcome of these activities the student strength is found to be continuously increasing during last five years. Faculties have conducted joint projects and published the good number of research articles in journals of repute. By collaborating with nearby institutions and research center we have published more than 40 research papers and 03
